Prix COAL 2021 - Announces the laureats

COAL

Prix COAL 2021
Prix et étudiants COAL. Culture & Diversité.
ANNOUNCEMENT OF LAUREATES

Gabriela Flores del Pozo, Luisa Monce et Glaucia Tabaj, the three winning projects of the BOZAR Prize for Art and Culture 2021. From left to right: Luisa Monce, Gabriela Flores del Pozo and Glaucia Tabaj.

The three projects aim to bring together in one of the most prestigious platforms of contemporary art the work of three artists and two curators from South America. The projects are part of a broader cultural and educational initiative, the BOZAR Prize for Art and Culture 2021, which seeks to foster the exchange of cultural practices and ideas, and to encourage the development of new forms of collaboration and networking in the field of contemporary art.

The BOZAR Prize for Art and Culture 2021 is an international competition open to artists and curators from South America. The competition focuses on the themes of diversity, inclusivity and sustainability, and aims to promote the development of new forms of collaboration and networking in the field of contemporary art.

The winners of the BOZAR Prize for Art and Culture 2021 are:

- Gabriela Flores del Pozo, Chile: "En la sombra de la ciudad, el agua y el sol" (In the shadow of the city, the water and the sun)
- Luisa Monce, Argentina: "La huella de las estrellas" (The footprint of the stars)
- Glaucia Tabaj, Brazil: "A load of coal" (A load of coal)

Each of the winning projects received a prize of 15,000 euros and a one-month stay in Brussels at BOZAR, where they will have the opportunity to exhibit their work and to engage in a dialogue with the local cultural and artistic community.

The BOZAR Prize for Art and Culture 2021 is an international competition open to artists and curators from South America. The competition focuses on the themes of diversity, inclusivity and sustainability, and aims to promote the development of new forms of collaboration and networking in the field of contemporary art.

The winners of the BOZAR Prize for Art and Culture 2021 are:

- Gabriela Flores del Pozo, Chile: "En la sombra de la ciudad, el agua y el sol" (In the shadow of the city, the water and the sun)
- Luisa Monce, Argentina: "La huella de las estrellas" (The footprint of the stars)
- Glaucia Tabaj, Brazil: "A load of coal" (A load of coal)

Each of the winning projects received a prize of 15,000 euros and a one-month stay in Brussels at BOZAR, where they will have the opportunity to exhibit their work and to engage in a dialogue with the local cultural and artistic community.

The BOZAR Prize for Art and Culture 2021 is an international competition open to artists and curators from South America. The competition focuses on the themes of diversity, inclusivity and sustainability, and aims to promote the development of new forms of collaboration and networking in the field of contemporary art.

The winners of the BOZAR Prize for Art and Culture 2021 are:

- Gabriela Flores del Pozo, Chile: "En la sombra de la ciudad, el agua y el sol" (In the shadow of the city, the water and the sun)
- Luisa Monce, Argentina: "La huella de las estrellas" (The footprint of the stars)
- Glaucia Tabaj, Brazil: "A load of coal" (A load of coal)

Each of the winning projects received a prize of 15,000 euros and a one-month stay in Brussels at BOZAR, where they will have the opportunity to exhibit their work and to engage in a dialogue with the local cultural and artistic community.

The BOZAR Prize for Art and Culture 2021 is an international competition open to artists and curators from South America. The competition focuses on the themes of diversity, inclusivity and sustainability, and aims to promote the development of new forms of collaboration and networking in the field of contemporary art.

The winners of the BOZAR Prize for Art and Culture 2021 are:

- Gabriela Flores del Pozo, Chile: "En la sombra de la ciudad, el agua y el sol" (In the shadow of the city, the water and the sun)
- Luisa Monce, Argentina: "La huella de las estrellas" (The footprint of the stars)
- Glaucia Tabaj, Brazil: "A load of coal" (A load of coal)

Each of the winning projects received a prize of 15,000 euros and a one-month stay in Brussels at BOZAR, where they will have the opportunity to exhibit their work and to engage in a dialogue with the local cultural and artistic community.

The BOZAR Prize for Art and Culture 2021 is an international competition open to artists and curators from South America. The competition focuses on the themes of diversity, inclusivity and sustainability, and aims to promote the development of new forms of collaboration and networking in the field of contemporary art.